

MAYLON

Oh how shall we miss thee dear
The sun's light and moon's rays
Yet how could we wish thee to live
When angels were calling thee
I shall miss oh how I shall miss thee
As soon from thy bright spirit home
Thou wilt call and my daddy will follow
There's a ray with death's shadow